126-75¼4-New. Where the industrial commission fails properly to apply the law to the facts found and to determine which of successive insurance carriers is liable for compensation awarded, it is the duty of the supreme court, on appeal from a judgment setting aside the award, to apply the law and direct entry of the proper judgment. 195Wis 410, 217NW738.

126-75¼5-New. Under some statutes an appeal must be taken within thirty days from entry of the judgment. 88PaSuper525.

126-75½4-New. In this case, in which the claimant excepted to a judgment of the superior court affirming an order of the industrial commission, which denied compensation for an alleged hernia, it cannot be said that a finding in the claimant's favor was absolutely demanded by the evidence; consequently the superior court did not err in denying the claimant's appeal. 38GaA461, 144 SE343.

126-75½5-New. The conclusion reached by the workmen's compensation bureau, after examining the facts and hearing the testimony on an application of the wife for compensation for the death of her husband from wood alcohol poisoning, granting her an award affirmed by the court of common pleas, should not be lightly disturbed by the supreme court upon a mere inspection of the written word, where there is ample support in the testimony for the conclusion reached. NJSup 143A449.

126-75½6-New. On an appeal from an award of the board, affirmed by the court, the revisory powers of the appellate court are limited to such a consideration of the record as will enable the court to ascertain whether there is evidence to support the findings, and, if so, whether the law has been properly applied. 293Pa589, 143A187.

126-75½7-New. The supreme court must sustain findings of the board and the trial court unless the evidence clearly preponderates against them. 85Mont 41, 277P615.

126-75½8-New. The trial court's definition of permanent total incapacity as not implying an absolute disability to perform any kind of labor, but the disqualification to perform usual tasks of a workman in such a way as to enable him to procure and retain employment, is not error justifying a reversal of the judgment awarding compensation. Tex CivA 10SW(2d)756.

126-75½9-New. The submission of a special issue, requiring the jury to find that the injured workman's incapacity was permanent before answering in the affirmative the question whether the injuries resulted in a total incapacity, is not prejudicial to an insurance carrier. TexCivA 10SW(2d)756.

126-75½0-New. In a suit under the Workmen's Compensation Act to set aside a decision of the board and to recover compensation for the death of an employee, the sustaining of an exception to a part of the petition alleging that insurer, in its report to the board, admitted and assumed the liability, is not reversible error. TexCivA 10SW(2d)782.

126-75½1-New. A finding of the fact by the appellate court, as to the dependency, based on unrebutted testimony, is conclusive. 168La642, 122S892.

126-75½5-New. The finding of the referee, sustained by the compensation board and the trial court, that the paralytic condition of the claimant resulted from cerebral hemorrhage due to sunstroke suffered in the course of employment, will not be disturbed. 295Pa73, 144A821(1stcase).

126-75½6-New. Where there was testimony from which a jury on trial de novo on an appeal, might reasonably infer that an employee slipped on a greasy floor, receiving injuries in the course of employment causing death, the supreme court will not substitute its judgment for that of the jury. Oh 165NE 297.

1324-4¼-New. Presumptions.-Where notice of appeal from decision of reclamation commission was never served on original petitioner, and there was not showing that petitioner knew appeal was taken, court must assume that proceedings for removal for diversity of citizenship were instituted when it first knew of pendency of appeal. 30F(2d) 436.
1324-4½-New. All doubt should be resolved in favor of remand. 38F(2d)209.
1324-5 Where jurisdiction of federal court is doubtful, cause should be remanded. 30F(2d)953; 13PortoRicoFed 237. Every doubt must be resolved against motion to remand, where right of removal is in doubt. 30F(2d)410. That notice of petition for removal used figures "1928" instead of "1929" to describe date was harmless and not ground for remand of case. 32F(2d) 935. A motion to remand will not be granted, etc., because of joinder of additional defendants. 34F(2d)790. If either cause of action is against nonresident defendant solely, court will not remand. 40F(2d)951. Only question on motion to remand is sufficiency of petition to remove which shows federal question. 33F(2d)994. District court must hear and determine issues taken by plaintiff to statements in removal petition. 33F(2d)1010.
1324-5½-New. Court would not determine whether defendants were aggressors, on motion to remand to state prosecution of prohibition agents. 40F(2d) 58.

1326-8 Court should not remand where removability is doubtful. 7F(2d)177. Ground presented on motion to remand, that petition for removal was not filed in time, has been held to present question of time of removal for court's determination, though petition to remand did not controvert allegations of petition for removal, question of time being one of law, to be determined on record. 30F(2d)410. Rehearing of motion to remand.-12PortoRicoFed374. Court cannot determine matters which may be raised in later pleadings.-42F(2d)633.
1326-10 Second petition for removal may be filed after remand where pleadings after remand show that cause is removable. 13PortoRicoFed272.
1326-10½-New. When case was remanded to state court, temporary restraining order restraining further proceedings in state court was properly dissolved, and application to continue it during pendency of case was properly dismissed. 29F(2d)829.
